

Charm

I love to hunt for treasures at antique stores. Last month I scouted out a new store Charm which is open the third weekend of every month. The owners formerly displayed their treasures in downtown Kanas City at a store called Bella Patina then decided to open up their own place in Martin City. The store is charming and filled with all sorts of inspiring things. They sell antiques, handmade items, refurbished furniture, jewelry, and all sorts of other tchotchkes. I'm an accessories kind of gal so I love to shop for these types of things. The problem is I have no more space in my home to store them. My husband and close friends will vouch for me. I thought their pricing was moderate. Some items were very reasonable and others were a little on the high end. Various people sell their wares there so it just depends on the seller. If you have some free time next weekend it's worth checking out. They will be having their holiday open house November 15, 16 and 17. Charm is located at 612 E. 135th St. in Martin City.
