Men's Colognes default watermark

People often ask my husband what kind of cologne he is wearing. He loves cologne even more than I do. I thought I'd share three of his favorites right now.

1. Blue de Chanel
2. Acqua di Giò by Armani
3. Aqva by Bvlgari

I realize cologne can smell differently on people based on their body chemistry, but these three might be a good starting point if you are searching for cologne for a special man in your life. Almost all of them can be purchased in fine department stores or at Sephora.

These are three fragrances which are my favorites right now.

1. Light Blue by Dolce & Gabbana
2. Viva La Juicy by Juicy Couture
3. Bath by Bobby Brown (this was a gift from some friends and it's a nice clean scent)

I recently came across an old favorite at Walmart which many of you may be familiar with, Love's Baby Soft. It's the first perfume I can remember wearing and I can still recite the little jingle to the commercial. My sister-in-law and I had to buy it just for old times sake. I thought my tween daughter might like it, but I was wrong. She said it smells like baby powder. Viva La Juicy is more her speed. I guess you had to see the commercial to add to its appeal.
