I love the flavor of coconut and I also enjoy margaritas. I silently oohed and ahed to myself when I came across this recipe my friend shared on facebook for coconut lemongrass margaritas. They are made with coconut tequila. I had no idea there was such a thing. You can read all about how to make them on Shanna's blog pineapple and coconut. I'm an on the rocks kind of gal, but if you prefer your margarita frozen Shanna also shares a frozen version.

After youâ€™ve quenched your thirst, you may want to add some food to accompany your margarita. Check out my recipe for shrimp ceviche tostadas. They are light, quick and easy to make. My photo of the tostadas doesnâ€™t quite do them justice, unlike Shannaâ€™s drink photos which make me thirsty.
