

Exciting News

Description

default watermark

For years I cut recipes out of Taste of Home magazine and looked forward to some of their special publications like the Halloween issue. I'm excited to announce I have joined the Taste Ad Network anchored and promoted by Taste of Home media and Reader's Digest. The Taste of Home website features Blogs We Love and I'm excited to be a part of its community of food and lifestyle bloggers.

For those of you who know me well I don't love to cook, but I love good food and fast and easy recipes. I'll be sharing some of my favorite Taste of Home recipes and encourage those of you who do spend a lot of time in the kitchen to submit your recipes to Taste of Home's website. There are all sorts of recipe submission categories such as:

1. Mom's Best
2. Sunday Dinner
3. 30 Minute Meal
4. Feed a Crowd Potluck
5. All American Classics
6. Tasty Gifts

You can also simply submit to the general pool of recipes. Taste of Home also has several recipe contests taking place. Winners of these contests receive monetary prizes from $150 to $2,000 plus your recipe will be featured in Taste of Home magazine and possibly a cookbook. If cooking is a simple joy for you, I encourage you to share your talent in the kitchen. I'm always available for taste testing!

default watermark

photos from Taste of Home

I have several potlucks to go this weekend and with Labor Day weekend around the corner I thought I'd share Taste of Home's Top 10 Potluck Recipes. Click on the link for the recipes. Have a great weekend!

Date Created
2013/08/23
Author
queenie