

Moscow Mule

Description

default watermark

It's been a busy week. My parents were visiting from out of town and I'm experiencing a let down similar to the one I get right after the Christmas holidays. I was busy preparing for their stay and out of my normal routine for the past ten days. Even though I get a little stressed, I'm always sad to see them go. I'm ready to start the weekend with one of my favorite drinks, a moscow mule. I first learned of the moscow mule from Oprah's show. It's one of Oprah's favorite drinks. I have found two places in town that I know of that serve them. The Red Door Grill and Barley's Brewhaus. I was excited to come across the copper mugs at Bed Bath and Beyond while shopping with my mother. They are a little pricey, but I think the mug is part of what makes the moscow mule unique. However, you don't have to have the mug. I found this recipe for a moscow mule on Bon Appétit. Have a great weekend. I'll be back on Monday with a story from someone who makes me smile!

Moscow Mule

Recipe Type: Beverage

Author: Dawn

A refreshing cocktail made with vodka, ginger beer and lime juice.

Ingredients

- ice cubes
- 1/4 cup vodka
- 1 tbsp fresh lime juice
- 1/2 cup chilled ginger beer
- 1 lime wedge

default watermark

Instructions

1. Fill a tall glass with ice.
2. Add vodka and lime juice, then ginger beer.
3. Stir to mix.
4. Garnish with a lime wedge.

Date Created

2013/09/06

Author

queenie