

50 Favorite Movies About Love

Movies are a great escape, give you a new perspective and can kindle a romance. My first date with my husband (30 years ago) was at the movie theater. I met him when I was 16 and we went to see Two of A Kind with John Travolta and Olivia Newton John. It was also January 20 and there isn't a ton to do during the winter months in Kansas. Frigid temperatures, ice and snow have many people staying indoors this winter so I thought it would be fun to compile a list of movies about love for this Valentine's Day weekend.

If you've read any of my past posts. You know how I love lists and my very first post was about the movie Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close.

I found a list of the 100 Best Romantic Movies to help jog my memory and asked family and friends what some of their favorite movies about love are. They aren't only movies about romantic love, but love between friends, family and the unconditional love of a dog. If you've never seen Hachi and are a dog lover, it is a must see, but have a few kleenex close. In terms of romantic movies, the first movie that my husband and I both thought of was Serendipity. A lot of the movies on my list are oldies, but goodies. I hope you enjoy my picks and maybe discover one or two movies you haven't seen.
