

Salted Caramel Ice Cream Cake with Planters Salted Caramel Peanuts

Description

Iâ€™m sharing a salted caramel ice cream cake recipe over at Made to be a Momma today. My friend Kristin knows how much I love anything salted caramel and told me about Planters Salted Caramel Peanuts. Naturally, I had to try them out for myself and they did not disappoint. Kristin is working on developing a recipe with them and is a contributor to my blog so hopefully sheâ€™ll be sharing her recipe in the near future.

In the meantime, I was asked by Katie from Made to be A Momma to share a recipe on her blog. Katie embraces being a mother to two little boys and enjoys crafting, cooking and making her house a home. She shares all sorts of creative projects on her blog. One of my favorites is these crab cookies she made using Oreos. When my kids were younger I used to love crafting and baking with them (at least most of the time). Truth be told, there were a few times I let my perfectionism get in the way.
