I grew up eating Manwich Sloppy Joes and it's one of my family's most requested meals. It's the only way I've ever made a Sloppy Joe. Browning some ground beef and having a Manwich Night is one of the Easy Weeknight Meals in my rotating list of menu ideas. Manwich is free of artificial flavors and preservatives and comes in three different varieties: Original, Bold and Thick and Chunky.

I told my friend about my opportunity to write about Manwich and I couldn't believe she had never had a Manwich Sloppy Joe. I invited her family over for some Manwich Dogs and Mini Manwich Sloppy Joes. They were so quick and easy to put together. I simply browned ground beef and then added a can of Manwich sauce to the skillet. The instructions are right on the back of the can.

My husband grilled some hot dogs and I topped them off with the Manwich ground beef. I offered several other toppings such as shredded cheese, chopped onions and jalapenos. Instead of a chili dog we had Manwich Dogs. Manwich beef is tasty and takes much less time to prepare than chili.

I also made Mini Sloppy Joes because they can get a little messy and are easier for little ones to hold with both hands. I used mini Hawaiian Rolls and put half of a pineapple slice on a few of them.

These two quick and easy meal options give you more time to enjoy the Fall months and less time in the kitchen. Manwich is perfect for sandwiches and much more. You can find all sorts of Manwich Recipes on their website which will inspire you.
