FALL ENTERTAINING EDITION

Pen & Paper Flowers
WWW.PNPFLOWERSINC.COM

I'm excited to introduce you all to Jessica from Pen N Paper Flowers. I met/stalked Jessica at the SNAP conference this past Spring. I can't recall how I originally came across her blog, but it may have had something to do with this amazing popcorn bar she created. She is a party planner extraordinaire as well as a talented graphic designer and photographer. Her parties and events are beautifully styled, but what I love about her even more is at the end of her blog posts she has a section called Keeping It Real. Although things may look perfect we all know there are behind the scene things that go on that people don't often share and I love that she does.

Hello Hello! Joyful Scribblings readers! I'm Jessica from Pen N Paper Flowers a mom to three beautiful girls and a down-to-earth-kind-of-gal who loves Making, Baking and Photo-taking. You'll find me blogging, crafting, designing and styling cute parties and I'm just so thrilled Dawn asked me to share a few of my favorite finds with you. I went back and forth on a few different ideas but inevitably chose to share some Fall Entertaining Favorites with you and I hope you love my picks!!

1. Blonde Wood Pedestals
2. Mason Jar Drink Dispenser
3. Chalkboard Easel Place Card Holders
4. Half Barrel Basket
5. Juliette Oversized Serving Platters

I of course love all of Jessica's picks because they come from Pottery Barn. If you read my blog regularly you know that I'm a huge fan. I have one of the little wood pedestals and it's great to use on a table to create some height.

COURAGE

I love following Jessica on Instagram where she shares inspirational quotes. You can also purchase her designs, many of which are downloadable in her Etsy and Society 6 shop.
