12 Halloween Candy Recipes

joyfulscribblings.com

My kids are too old for trick-or-treating now, but there were many years we were still eating leftover Halloween candy at Christmas time. I would even freeze some of it and break it out during the winter months when when we were snuggled inside watching movies. There are also numerous ways you can use Halloween candy in recipes. These 12 recipes using leftover Halloween candy are a few of my favorites I found on Pinterest.

Click on each link for the recipe. I won't have too many trick-or-treaters this year, but I purposely bought extra candy so I could make one or two of these recipes. Target usually puts their Halloween candy on clearance right after Halloween and it's a great time to stock up on a few things for recipes.
