12 foil packet recipes

joyfulscribblings.com

Foil packet recipes are the bomb in my book. They are like the one pot meal for the grill and aren't just for camping. I love that they save time by not having to clean pots and pans especially during the summer months when I'd rather be outside relaxing on my patio. I've rounded up 12 foil packet recipes which I think look good and would like to try at some point this summer.

My friend loves the baked salmon with asparagus and makes it often. My family is a fan of Giada's baked salmon recipe which I shared in a past post. I've always cooked in the oven, but you could also grill it. I love grilling during the summer months and have a whole Pinterest board filled with grilling recipes. You can follow me on Pinterest here.

I hope you have a wonderful Memorial Day weekend filled with good food, laughter and great memories! Please click on each link for the recipe.
