shop my bookshelf

Are you looking for a good book to read this winter? I've opened up a book shop on my blog filled with some of my all time favorite books. You may have also noticed a few other changes in my menu bar. You can now find all of my favorite finds and get out of your box posts under the live curiously tab. Today is Cyber Monday so be sure to check out some of the many online deals.

I've shared several of the books in my shop in past posts which you can find under the live curiously tab and books. One of my favorite things to do is to browse the aisles of a bookstore. However, I also love the ease of purchasing books online through my Amazon Prime account. I can have a book delivered right to my doorstep in two days. I will be doing a majority of my holiday shopping online in the comfort of my home this year.

All of the books and journals in my shop are linked to Amazon and they are currently offering 30% off one book – use code: HOLIDAY30 & save up to $10! See the conditions here. I'm an Amazon affiliate which means I receive a small percentage of any sales if you purchase items through my link. There is no additional cost to you it's just a way of helping me cover some of my blogging expenses.

Any of these books would make great gifts for some of the book lovers in your life. I also shared some book gift ideas in this post. I've written about a lot of my favorite things in the past from games to food items. I often have people ask me about items I've featured in the past and my hope is that by adding a shop it will make it easier for you to find things.

Need a gift idea for the man in your life or a family? My husband loves cologne and always smells so good that friends often ask what he wears. Some of his favorite colognes can be found here. I've also shared five of my favorite family games here.

I've thought about adding other things like home decor to my shop, but before I do I'd love to get your thoughts. Are you an online shopper and do you find my shop helpful?
