

Young Living Essential Oils

Description

I'm excited to share with you my favorite finds and products that I love at Joyful Scribblings. One of those products is an array of essential oils.

These are powerful and created to work perfectly with our bodies. It is funny that the media talks about essential oils like it is a new trend " people have been using them for thousands of years! I actually purchased these oils 15 years ago and used a few of them. One of my goals in 2015 is to start using essential oils more and since I knew that Young Living has been around for awhile and that they are a reputable company I decided to purchase from them.

There are lots of places you can buy essential oils, but I love how Young Living is a trusted source and a pioneer in bringing the use of therapeutic oils to the United States. They also have some unique blends of oils.

I purchased this starter kit which gives you a variety of some of Young Living's best selling oils.

- 5ml Essential Oil Bottles - lemon, lavender, thieves, frankincense, Pan Away, Melaleuca A., Joy, Stress Away, Purification, Peppermint, Citrus Fresh.
- Home Diffuser
- Samples of Ningxia Red and common oil packets & roller insert.

**This offer is for US and Canada only, but don't worry if you are in another country! Many other countries can take advantage of a similar offer. Because not all countries allow the entire starter set to be shipped, you can go through the sign-up process to find out exactly what you are able to order.*

If you are ready to buy a starter kit, then be sure to sign up as a wholesale member (with one of the premium starter kits) through the instructions below.

Before you get started be sure to write this number down:2404010

1. Head over to the Young Living page here and fill out your information.
2. Be sure the "Wholesale Member" option is checked so that you don't end up paying retail prices.
3. Be sure the "sponsor ID" and "enroller id" say 2404010 (so that I can send you your freebies!)

4. If you do not feel comfortable putting in your social security number (this is only for tax purposes if you decide to turn this into a business) then you can get an EIN from the IRS in just a few seconds here and use that number instead (the IRS just needs to be able to connect some number with you for tax purposes). They need a Social Security Number or an EIN because if you make $600 or more per year selling Young Living products, you will receive a 1099 form in the mail (which is required by law). Young Living will never share this info with anyone.

5. Select which starter kit you want to get. My recommendation would be the Premium Starter Kit (and that's the one where you get all of the freebies!) Those are the oils that I use almost every single day! You can get the kit that's $150, or you can get a kit for $160 with an even nicer essential oil diffuser!

6. I'd recommend skipping the Step 3 (Optional) part of the sign-up process. I'll send over an email with more details on that part of things after you sign up (if you're going to be purchasing products monthly then it's a great program that will give you credit back with each order and save you on shipping costs).

7. Go through the checkout process.

8. After you sign up, send an email to dawn@joyfulscribblings.com letting me know that you signed up through this promotion.

BONUS Step 9 (COMPLETELY Optional!) If you would like to earn bonus oils this month, then get your order total up to 190 PV (different products have different point values). You could get the Start Living With Everyday Oils kit and automatically have 100 point value! then you'll just need 90 more points to get the bonus oils. For example, you could grab an extra bottle of Thieves Oil at 33.75 points, 15 ml bottle of Lavender at 23.5 points, 15 ml bottle of Lime at 11 points, and the 14.4 ounces of Thieves Household Cleaner at 22 points (just pour one capful of the concentrated Thieves cleaning solution into a spray bottle and it lasts for a really long time!) All of those items will bring your total points up to $190.25 which will qualify you to get the monthly Young Living BONUS oils! (This step is completely optional!)

IMPORTANT: This promotion is only available when you sign up with the sponsor ID and enroller ID as #2404010! Also, if you recommend this promotion to a friend (or group of friends) and they sign up too through this promotion then please let me know so that you can get credit for referring them. 😊

Frequently Asked Questions:

Does signing up make me a "distributor"?

Nope! You are not required to sell anything at all to anyone. When you become a wholesale member, you get a special link that you can share with friends and get credit from their purchases, but there are no minimum sales amounts at all. In fact, 90% of the wholesale members in Young Living don't do the business side at all. They are buying from Young Living because of the quality alone.

Am I required to make a minimum purchase each month?

There are absolutely NO minimum monthly purchase requirements. To remain a wholesale member, you have to make $50 worth of purchases per year to keep your membership. But if there's a year that you don't make a $50 purchase, you can reinstate your wholesale membership discount by just placing a $50 order.

If you do find yourself making regular purchases each month, then Young Living has a rewards program (called Essential Rewards) where you can make a nice percentage back in product credit each month on all of your purchases. So that's a neat program to join if you find that you *want* to purchase regularly (but it's not a requirement for being a wholesale member).

Why should I buy from Young Living instead of other essential oils companies?

It does seem like a new essential oils company pops up every day, doesn't it?

I can't speak to the quality of other companies, but I can say that Young Living was the only company in my research of essential oil companies that could answer all of my questions about purity in a way that was satisfactory to me.

Young Living was the only company that has their own farms (in the regions where the plants should be grown), could absolutely guarantee that no pesticides or herbicides were used in the growing of any of their oils (they use essential oils for pest control and they do all of the weeding by hand), has their own testing equipment (they do both in-house and 3rd party testing, and use many different testing methods not just GC/MS which only tests for certain chemicals, not whether those chemicals are synthetic or not), and only uses the first distillation of oils instead of adding chemicals to get more out of the plant.

Young Living also was the only company that was directly in charge of essential oil farming operations. Every other company I researched goes through some kind of an "oil broker" to buy their oils. They have to trust that the oil broker is telling the truth, who has to trust that the essential oil distilleries are telling the truth, who have to trust that the farmers are telling the truth about what they say they are doing.

With Young Living, you just have to trust one company instead of several.

I feel like it's a trust step either way (anyone could be lying) but I felt the most comfortable trusting Young Living since they are a full-disclosure company. ANYONE can visit the farms, participate in the harvesting and distillation, view the Young Living labs, and see the entire process. That's not an option with any other company.

How will I know which oils to use for what?

One of the benefits of getting a starter kit through this promotion is that you also get to join our private Facebook group thatâ€™s specifically for questions about essential oils!

Does Young Living only sell essential oils?

The answer to this one was surprising to me when I first got my starter kit! Young Living actually has an entire line of personal care products, supplements, meal replacements, energy drinks, and more! Almost every product incorporates essential oils (for example, frankincense is absolutely wonderful in facial products), but thereâ€™s a wide variety of products available.
